

Withdrawal of parental consent

According to the General Data Protection Regulation, consent to the processing of a child's data (under the age of 13) must be obtained from the person responsible for the child in the role of a guardian (holder of parental responsibility). This form allows the person responsible for the child in their role as a guardian to withdraw such consent given for the processing of the child's data.

If consent has concerned all processing operations carried out to achieve the same purpose or purposes, the withdrawal of consent shall also apply to all processing operations carried out to achieve the same purpose or purposes.

The withdrawal does not affect the lawfulness of data processing carried out in accordance with consent prior to the withdrawal.

Please complete the sentence below, sign the form and send it to:

I, _____, certify that _____ _____ is under the age of 13 and that I am responsible for them as a parent. In this role, I withdraw my consent to the processing of their personal data for the following purposes:

The organisation must be able to demonstrate that the guardian of the designated child has withdrawn consent using the parental consent withdrawal form.

The organisation must be able to demonstrate that, at the time of withdrawal of consent, the accuracy of custody has been ensured in a reasonable manner, taking into account the technology used. This has been chosen to be implemented by requiring both parent and child signatures to be confirmed on the form.
